

Marcelo Mattoso, the artist, painted the typology where gallery walls are (theatrical black, colored over wall with stage lighting, converted the gallery floor and, at the center of the room, placed a large seat cushion occasionally used for repair by a single viewer.